TRAINING AND SUPPORT

TRAINING COURSES

We provide a number of regional online training courses to help you learn about children’s rights and the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, and provide you with the guidance and tools you need to become Rights Respecting.

Training courses cost £140 a day per person and take place through Microsoft Teams over three to four hours. Included in the cost is our Achieving Bronze booklet. Find a training course today.

ONLINE TRAINING

Our online training courses are here to support you and your school to embed, enhance and maintain Rights Respecting practice into every aspect of school life. The courses can be done in your own time and from anywhere in the world. Find out more here.

The cost of our e-learning packages is dependent on the size of your school. The costs listed below include Strengthening the RRSA and Starting RRSA Online, per year.

We do not restrict the number of staff within your school who have access to the course enabling you to upskill your teaching and non-teaching staff, governors, and students.

Subscription to Starting RRSA Online is included for the first four months following registration, this is the length of time it typically takes to get to the first stage of the Award. After this the course can act as an introduction to Unicef, children’s rights and Rights Respecting Schools for new members of staff.

To gain access email us at rrsa@unicef.org.uk with the name and size of your school, payment can be taken by purchase order or by credit or debit card.
