HOW-TO GUIDE

Our UNICEF UK Rights Respecting Schools team would love to read your Declaration and share your ideas with the UK Government.

Please either make your Declaration on the importance of education for girls digitally directly in Acrobat, using page 1, or print out page 2 and write/draw your thoughts.

GUIDELINES TO HELP YOU MAKE A DECLARATION ON GIRLS' EDUCATION

1. Please add your school's name in the space at the top. Please do not put students' names or details anywhere on the Declaration.
2. Please write and/or draw why you believe girls' education is important in the first box. You may want to include something on why girls may not be able realise their right to education. While there are lots of reasons that education is important, please add just your top three.
3. In the second box, please give your school's commitments to promote gender equality both at school and the wider world.
4. The third box is the opportunity for you to write what actions you would like G7 leaders to take to support girls' education. Please list up to three things.
5. Please email your Declaration to rrsa@unicef.org.uk. If you have printed out the Declaration to write/draw by hand, then please take a photo or scan the Declaration and email it.
